Our Mission

To advance the field of sports neuropsychology, to generate and disseminate knowledge regarding brain health, injury, and safety as it applies to sports, and to promote the welfare of athletes at all developmental levels.

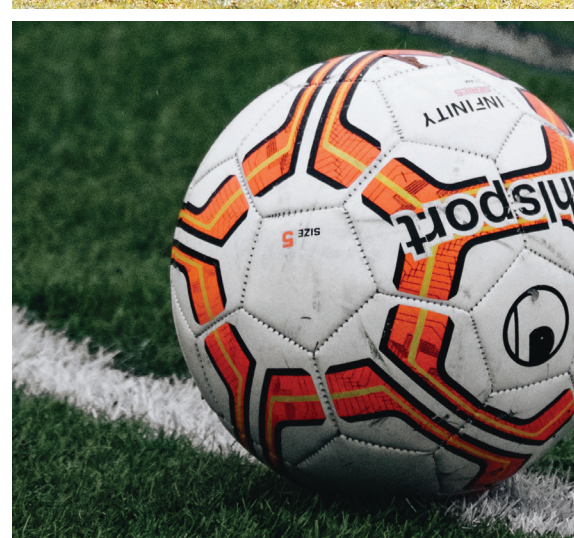

About the Symposium

The Society held its first clinical symposium in Minneapolis in 2013 and this annual conference has become the "must attend" meeting for healthcare professionals who evaluate and manage sports-related concussion. Our symposia are known for cutting edge research, internationally renowned speakers, and interdisciplinary collaborations. Our attendees appreciate the excellent networking opportunities, warm collegial atmosphere, and high quality venue.

2019-Seattle 2020 -Virtual 2021-Virtual 2022-Dallas
2023-Denver 2024-Philadelphia

Symposium Program

The Symposium is typically set for springtime and spans a three-day period. In addition to the keynote address, workshops, poster session and exhibits, there is an evening Welcome Reception for all attendees, a luncheon, and a private Faculty/Sponsor dinner. Closed meetings of the NFL, NHL, and MLS neuropsychology consultants are also held during the symposium.

Our Goal

Provide state-of-the-art research and empirically-informed clinical information on athlete brain health from a multidisciplinary internationally recognized faculty.

Target Audience

SNS targets all healthcare professionals involved in managing, treating, and promoting athlete brain health including neuropsychologists, physicians, clinical and sports psychologists, athletic trainers, nurses, physical therapists, and stakeholders. Many of our symposium courses have high relevance for high-school and college administrators, athletic personnel, sports league executive bodies, attorneys, and game day officials.

Internationally Recognized Faculty

Faculty members from our meetings have included:

Jeffrey Barth, Ph.D., Russell Bauer, Ph.D., Steven Broglio, P.D., ATC, Donna Broshek, Ph.D., Robert Cantu, M.D., Michael Collins, Ph.D., Jeff Crandall, Ph.D., C.
